World Tour Since 2013

A true Subway Surfers Poki champion doesn't simply call it quits after beating that tempting high score, of course. That's why, in the spirit of keeping the content fresh, the famous World Tour was created! Every few weeks, the Subway Surfers Online crew travel to a new location, where they can access special-edition characters who are more than happy to show new surfers around. So far, the World Tour has taken plenty of beautiful cities and countries by storm all across the world, including:

Paris: The last time the World Tour stopped here, the surfers got to meet Coco, the beautiful but not very talkative French mime. The Parisian subway tracks are beautifully adorned by charming street-side cafés, shopping centers, and other gorgeous attractions that only Paris can deliver.

Mumbai: Mumbai was never the same after the Subway Surfers Poki World Tour rolled (or ran, rather) through! Just ask Jay, the Indian superstar of the subway, who helped the crew fly through crowded marketplaces, tourist shops and even ancient temples. If you get to go on a future stop, make sure you don't get too distracted by the beautiful surroundings, however; the trains don't stop for tourists!

London: Speaking of tourists, Jamie (the London special character) couldn't stop snapping his camera when the surfers strolled through London, one of the most popular World Tour stops. That's understandable because the snow-topped row houses were a sight to behold.

New York: The very first World Tour stop ever, New York, holds a special place in Subway Surfers Poki history. Tony, the streetwise New York City native and faithful tour guide, was happy to show everybody the ropes – and his sweet skills. If you join on a return trip, just remember – the coppers don't take kindly to people holding up the subway line!

Tokyo: The surfers dashed their way through the beautiful and bustling cityscape that is Tokyo, where Harumi guided them through beautiful cherry blossom trees, rainbow tunnels, ancient buildings and busy streets. Too bad you can't stop to take any pictures!

This is just a small taste of the World Tour, which has also taken the Subway Surfers characters to Iceland, Mexico, and dozens of other exotic and challenging locations. Sometimes the World Tour revisits an old favorite, sometimes it travels somewhere new – you have to play Subway Surfers Poki often to find out where the next stop is!

Subway Surfers Tips & Tricks

Swiping left and right or up and down seems easy at first, but when a solid wall of trains is speeding right at you, you will need to have some fancier moves than that! Every once in a while, you will come across a seemingly impossible combination of obstacles. Never fear, we've compiled a list of our go-to tips and tricks for Subway Surfers Game who need a little skill boost

First, you will definitely have to perfect the art of switching lanes in mid-air. In many cases, you have to jump up to reach those floating coins while a train is barreling right at you. If you're daring and quick enough, you can get that coin AND dodge the train by switching lanes in mid-jump at the last second.

Especially if you found yourself a pair of bouncy Super Sneakers, which allow you to jump directly onto a train from the ground, you will sometimes need to land quickly so that you can jump again. Did you know that you can swipe down in mid-air to come crashing back to the ground?

Sometimes, you can actually get in a position where it is impossible to get past a certain set of obstacles, which is why you need to make sure you have plenty of hoverboards. Keep your eyes ahead and make your decision quickly – double tap the screen to use one and hold your breath because it's going to get messy when you hit that train! Don't worry, when the dust settles, you'll still be sprinting down the tracks! In general, you should make an effort to remain on top of the trains, as this will give you a better view of the challenges that lurk ahead of you. Keep track of your active missions, because these will increase your Score Multiplier so that you can strive for that jaw-dropping high score. Finally, keep your eyes peeled for powers' at all times! Once you have enough coins, you can upgrade your powers' so their effects last longer.
